- 25X1C 1. [REDACTED] Nationalist forces on Hainan repelled an attack by 100 Communist guerrillas west of Paoshe (109-30, 19-48) and killed 30 guerrillas. The Nationalists killed 20 guerrillas 10 11 southwest of Tahsing (109-21, 19-36).
- 25X1C 2. [REDACTED] the Nationalists destroyed the Communist 2 Division base at Nanlo (108-55, 19-26) and moved south under air support, killing 10 Communists at Kanen (108-39, 18-54), and driving the Communists in the area to the mountains. A concentration of 1,000 men of the Communist 4 Division at Chenchuatung*, northeast of Paotin (109-32, 18-40), are withdrawing to the mountains in Central Hainan.
- 25X1C 3. [REDACTED] the Chinese Nationalist Air Force (CAF) and Navy (RCN) attacked and destroyed 10 junks. The survivors who were picked up indicated that the junks were from Peihai (109-05, 21-24) with supplies from the Communist 40 and 43 Armies for FENG Pai-chu, Communist guerrilla leader on Hainan.
- 25X1C 5. [REDACTED] Nationalist General LIU An-chi sent a division against the Central Hainan Communists. The division destroyed the Communist 1 Division base, killed 130 Communists and forced the remainder to withdraw to the mountains.
- 25X1C 6. [REDACTED] Communist General LIN Piao's Independent 8 Division and 40,000 additional troops moved from Nanning to Peihai as reinforcements for the Hainan invasion.
- 25X1C 7. [REDACTED] the CAF and RCN stopped an attack by 10 junks on the west coast of Hainan north of Haitou (108-56, 19-28). The Communists got ashore but all were captured. Continued efforts of the Communists to land are attributed by the Nationalist military to the necessity to provide supplies for the Hainan Communist guerrillas.
